

January 23, 2018

To whom it may concern

I would like to recommend Isabelle Matz for an award in our department. I taught Isabelle in my differential equations class last spring. I enjoyed very much having her in my class. She is a wonderful young woman, along with being intelligent and hardworking. She consistently performed well on tests, quizzes and homework assignments, showed a willingness to participate in class discussion, and was always ready to go to the board and work a problem or demonstrate a concept. She earned an A in my course, which is no easy feat.

In addition to these qualities, Isabelle is a very personable young woman who interacts well with other students and faculty. I have no hesitation in recommending her.

Julie Bowers Lassiter
O-317 Martin Hall
Department of Mathematical Sciences
Clemson University, Clemson, SC 29634
jlassit@clemson.edu

DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICAL SCIENCES

College of Engineering & Science O-106 Martin Hall Clemson, SC 29634-0975
Phone: 864-656-3434 Fax: 864-656-5230