To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing this letter to recommend Polly Payne enthusiastically for a Mathematical Sciences Award.

Polly is a senior Mathematical Sciences BS major whose emphasis area is Actuarial Science/Financial Math. She has a perfect 4.00 GPA, and she is an amazing student.

Polly's interests include logic puzzles and other games, crocheting, and creative writing. She is active in the College Student Fellowship at the First Baptist Church of Clemson. She has been a MATH 1060 SI leader for five semesters and is part of "Math Fight Club" that helps MATH 1060 students review for tests. She is also a member of the Calhoun Honors College and is active in the Clemson University Actuarial Club. She will also graduate with Departmental Honors.

She interned with the The Lincoln Financial Group during the 2017 Summer, and she has passed three actuarial exams.

After graduation, she has already accepted a job with as an actuary with The Lincoln Financial Group.

Sincerely,

Mark E. Cawood, Ph.D.
